HOOVER MAKES MILITANT DRIVE TO CAPTURE VOTES Ohioans Show Great Interest In Coming Election

REGISTRATION IN BUCKEYE CITIES SHOWS INCREASE

Experts Say Heavy Vote
Will Favor No One
Candidate

2,500,000 BALLOTS
EXPECTED IN STATE

Records Expected to Fall
When "Peoples' Voice"
Is Heard

• A definite indication of intense interest manifested by Ohioans in the presidential race was seen today, following a week end which practical politicians spent in manipulating adding machines and lightning calculators, seeking a favorable interpretation of the heaviest registration in the history of the state.

Previous vague estimates of a "general increase" in the number of citizens intending to make use of their franchise went by the boards and political leaders openly declared that "more than two and a half million ballots" will be cast by Buckeye voters on Nov. 6.

Although partisan political prognosticators jubilantly hailed the increased registration as favoring this or that candidate, more conservative observers were reticent in their expressions, cautiously pointing out that only on Nov. 7, when the "voice of the people" has been heard, will it be possible to determine what candidate occupied the place of favor in the minds of voters when they flocked to registration booths on Saturday, last day of registration. An increase of 250,000 registrations was noted in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus and Toledo where a total of 707,972 signified their intention of marking "X's" on their ballots on election day. Increase in registrations in principal Ohio cities was: Cleveland, increase, 55,200; Cincinnati, 43,766; Toledo, 19,160 and Columbus, 21,623.

Youngstown, with 56,905 registrations computed thus far, showed a far heavier registration than in 1927, when 43,218 registrations were noted.

PRANKSTERS GET POLICE WARNING

Chief Will Not Tolerate
Property Destruction
Or Roughness

The strong clasp of the law's iron hand will be clenching on all rascals observing the Halloween season in a manner violating the law.

Carrying away front steps of homes, porch swings, and other furniture from front porches, and hanging them on telephone poles; soaping windows of homes and stores and automobile windshields; tossing stones, rubbish, and clubs on porches to arouse the slumbering, and other property-destructing pranks are taboo, in an announcement made today by Police Chief T. J. Thompson.

The practice of high school freshmen initiation, by upperclassmen with paint and rouge will also be abolished this year, Thompson states. All persons wielding Halloween rouge in a promiscuous and indiscriminate manner will be taken to the city jail.

"We hope this year for one of the greatest Halloween celebrations in our history," Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston announced. "But complaints have already been coming to the chief and myself so rapidly that we are putting the ban on all pranks."

A gala but orderly Halloween is in order for the day's celebration in Salem.

Veterans Endorse Martin L. Davey For Governorship

Kent, O., Oct. 22.—Congressman Martin L. Davey, Democratic candidate for governor, today had received the endorsement of a committee representing veterans of four wars and their auxiliaries. Among the signers is Mrs. Martha Abels, Ohio's official war mother.

Declaring that the "ex-service men never had a better friend than Martin L. Davey," the endorsement was made in an open letter to all patriotic and military organizations throughout the state.

"It is our belief," the letter reads, "that it is the duty of the veterans of all wars, their dependents and auxiliaries, to stand by our proven friend and to show our appreciation of activities in our behalf by giving him our whole-hearted support and doing everything in our power to elect him to the office he seeks and deserves, regardless of our party affiliation."

Hoover Optimistic Over G.O.P. Chances

New York, Oct. 22.—A Republican victory in November is "assured beyond any doubt," Herbert Hoover declared today in a conference with newspapermen which featured the opening of his personal effort to win New York state.

The Republican nominee declared overconfidence was the only danger to the chances of Republican success. He said that reports reaching him from all sections of the country indicated that the "shock" of the active, zealous and confident of victory.

"I think there never has been greater unity in the Republican party in the last quarter century than there is now," said Hoover. "We have an able organization and there is more zeal throughout the country for the Republican cause than we have had in a number of years."

BURNING PLANE REPORTED DOWN NEAR MARLBORO

Searchers Comb Vicinity,
But Fail To Find
Aircraft

TRUCK DRIVER SAYS
HE SAW ACCIDENT

Cleveland Airport Head
Doubts That Crash
Occurred

Reports that an airplane caught fire near Alliance Saturday night and crashed to the ground were believed unfounded today as searching parties, after hunting all day yesterday and last night returned without finding the "fallen plane."

Ernest Canham, a truck driver, reported late Saturday night that he had seen a plane crash fire and fall near Marlboro.

The alarm was spread and by dawn yesterday several searching parties had been organized.

Three airplanes from Alliance combed the fields and woods of the Marlboro district. The planes, which abandoned the search this morning, were piloted by William Baker, Frank Transue and Harold Artman, Alliance aviators.

A report similar to that from Marlboro was circulated in the vicinity of Columbiana.

Several theories of the "fallen plane" were advanced today, among them the belief that a mail plane flying low to obtain location and with its wing flares lighted, gave rise to the rumors. The wing flares would give the plane the appearance of being on fire and its swoop for location would make it appear to be falling, aviators here declared.

Sees Light
Canham was first attracted by a plunging light in the sky, he said, and as he watched it grew larger until the outlines of a plane were visible in a glare that led him to believe the fuselage was afire.

The burning plane went into a dive, Canham said, pulled out of it, and almost immediately went into a tailspin, from which it emerged a few hundred feet from the ground, only to go into a second dive. Still plunging like a blazing plummet, the plane dropped from sight, Canham told Austin.

Makes Search
Austin set out at once to search for the plane but could find no trace of it. Word was flashed to the telephone operators at Atwater and Lima and at daybreak citizens of both towns joined in the search.

The searching parties, as night drew on, wandered back into town to snatch a bite of supper, procure lanterns and start out again.

Concealed Weapon Charge Is Placed Against Salem Man

Raymond Robinson, Salem, was bound over to grand jury today on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, by Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston. Robinson pleaded not guilty to the charge.

A charge of highway robbery against Robinson was dismissed due to the lack of sufficient evidence, according to the police report. Robinson was arrested by Canton police in Canton Saturday night and brought to Salem Sunday morning.

The charge of robbery was preferred in an affidavit by Robert Berry, New Waterford, who alleged that Robinson and Luther Leach, Alliance, robbed him of $15 last week. Leach was dismissed because of the lack of evidence Saturday.

The charge of carrying concealed weapons was preferred after police were informed that Robinson, on the night Berry was robbed, was carrying a revolver with him, police state.

His Own Surgeon

Dulling his sense of pain with a local anesthetic, Dr. Robert Meals, young surgeon of Hollywood, removed his own appendix successfully. The operation was an experiment to verify Dr. Meals' previous conclusion that the "shock" suffered by most patients is due largely to anesthesia rather than the operation itself.

Witt is being sent through Ohio by the national Democratic committee. His first speech, of an extensive itinerary, is to be made in Youngstown tonight. He will speak in Warren Wednesday, and Dayton Friday night.

John J. Whitacre, former congressman of the 18th district, is candidate for election to that office again. His speech will be limited to 10 minutes, Hiddleston stated today. Witt being given the rest of the time.

The Quaker City band will provide music during the rally. No parade or any street demonstration will be made.

Political Activities In Ohio Entering Into Final Spurt

Gubernatorial Nominees Plan Many Speeches During Final Weeks of State Campaign; Scores Of Addresses Are Scheduled

Columbus, Oct. 22.—With election day only two weeks away, political leaders and organization workers affiliated with the two major parties in the Buckeye state have inaugurated their heaviest week of intensive campaigning thus far this fall.

Scores of speeches throughout Ohio this week have been scheduled at Democratic and Republican state headquarters. Not less than 25 daily political talks, in addition to those arranged for by various local G. O. P. organizations, have been scheduled by Republican state leaders, it was stated.

This week's itinerary for Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, Republican gubernatorial nominee, follows: Today, at Cincinnati; Tuesday, Wilberforce university, Xenia at noon; London in afternoon and Chillicothe at night; Wednesday, Chardon at noon and Painesville at night; Thursday, Coshocton in afternoon and Akron at night; Fri-

SUSPECTS FACE QUESTIONING IN GOLDNER CASE

Police Pursue Activity
In Attempting to Solve
Death Mystery

Two more suspects were grilled by Salem police late Sunday night and early Monday morning, in connection with the murder of John Goldner without uncovering new developments.

No action has been taken by the county in response to Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston's appeal, for a reward. Hiddleston today declared that indications are that whatever will be done in the matter will be left in the hands of Police Chief T. W. Thompson and the Salem force.

Tuesday will mark the third week since the discovery of Goldner's body in a field one and one-half miles southwest of Salem. Police have been active on the case since that time but have been unable to locate leads that will enable them to solve the mystery.

Since the discovery that Goldner had been murdered and was not the victim of accidental shooting, the entire Salem police force has been detailed on the case on both night and day shifts. This work on the case will continue, Hiddleston declared until police have exhausted all means in their efforts to solve the case.

GRAF ZEPPELIN TO FLY ACROSS BUCKEYE STATE

Salem Residents, However Have Small Chance To See Dirigible

AKRON WILL GREET
MISTRESS OF AIR

Baby Blimp May Act As Escort to Giant Of Airways

BULLETIN
Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 22.—The fact that reports on the Graf Zeppelin's left port horizontal will be completed tomorrow afternoon and the ship's fuel gas and hydrogen supply replenished at the same time, makes it possible for Dr. Eckener to take the airship on its mid-western trip early Wednesday morning.

Salem residents, who are anxious to get a glimpse of the Graf Zeppelin, will have to journey to Akron to assure themselves of that privilege, if the route now planned by authorities is carried out.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the big dirigible, announced while he was in Akron yesterday that the Graf Zeppelin's inland tour would start early Thursday morning.

The course, according to present plans will bring the ship into Ohio from Pittsburgh, touching Columbus, Cincinnati and proceeding west to St. Louis.

The ship is to be moored at Scott Field, Ill., Thursday night.

Chicago on Route
Friday the Zep's nose is to point northward to Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Cleveland, Akron, Buffalo, Syracuse and Lakehurst. While it may land for a short time at Detroit, Dr. Eckener said he probably would not come down, after leaving Scott Field, until he reaches Lakehurst.

This route would bring the ship into Ohio at a point well south of Salem and would pass out of the state well north of this locality. Possibilities are few that the giant craft might be seen from here.

Colorful greetings to the Zeppelin are being planned in a number of cities. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.'s two baby blimps, Puritan and Pilgrim, may escort the Zeppelin through Northern Ohio Friday, furnishing observers the contrast between the largest and the smallest airships in the world.

Wants Regular Service
Dr. Eckener is understood to have proposed the establishing of a regular service.

STATE CHECKS WATER SUPPLY

Wellsville Forced Into
Using River; Reservoir
Becomes Empty

Columbus, O., Oct. 22.—By order of the state health department Wellsville is now receiving its water supply from the Ohio river, chlorinating and boiling it before using, due to the exhausted supply from the reservoir, it was announced here today by T. R. Lathrop, assistant sanitary engineer of the health department.

Wellsville, having a population of 9,000, has been getting its water from a reservoir built by the city, which will hold 140,000,000 gallons of water. Because the system is not meterized, people have been using about 2,000,000 gallons a day, twice as much as should be used, exhausting the supply and making it necessary to use Ohio river water.

AL SMITH RESTS FOR ATTACK ON EASTERN STATES

Feels Pennsylvania Can
Be Won Into Dem
Column

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Back home for a short breathing spell, Gov. Smith rested today for what he has described as "the battle of the eastern seaboard" the opening gun in which will be fired in Boston on Wednesday.

Gov. Smith will leave Albany tomorrow night, not to return to it again until he knows whether he is to be the next president of the United States, or just another defeated candidate.

From Boston he will go to New York on Thursday and from that familiar base engage in a fast-flying tour of the great eastern centers that are so vital to his success, the next two weeks will see him in Massachusetts, New York, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland, seven states in which even the Republicans admit his candidacy has strong appeal this year.

East Is Vital
Should he win them all two weeks hence, and should the solid south and border states stand firm in their normal and traditional democracy, Gov. Smith will win the presidency, even though he carries not a single western state. But, by the same token, any great or material defection in the east would be fatal.

There are no Republicans though and only a comparatively few Democrats who believe Gov. Smith has much prospect of winning Pennsylvania's 28 votes, whatever may be his chances in these other eastern states.

Philadelphia Speech
Gov. Smith himself, however, is one of the doubters, he is going to speak in Philadelphia next Saturday night. Democratic candidates (Continued on Page 4)

Republican Clubs For Women Formed By County Leader

The first club was formed at a meeting in the Kensington Methodist Episcopal church, at which Mrs. Melville Hole presided. The speakers were Mrs. C. L. Rothwell, East Palestine, and Mrs. Bricker, Lisbon, Columbiana County Women's Christian Temperance Union leaders; Mrs. W. L. Fogo, Wellsville, and Mrs. R. J. Marshall, East Liverpool.

The second organization was launched within the ranks of the New Idea club of Bayard, meeting at the home of Mrs. William Bowens.

Another club was organized at a meeting in the East Rochester Presbyterian church at which Mrs. Herman Gardner presided.

The fourth club was formed at Hanoverton. Mrs. Melva Pelley presided.

New England States Shift
Into G. O. P. Fold;

New York, Oct. 22.—Entrenched in the "enemy stronghold," Herbert Hoover today was in the midst of a militant personal drive to capture New York state's 45 electoral votes.

The Republican nominee opened the last fortnight of his campaign for the presidency by leaving his comfortable headquarters in Washington to invade New York City, already conceded to his Democratic rival, Governor Alfred E. Smith. Hoover, however, used the metropolis as a background for his real objective—the capture of the state and a victory throughout the whole industrial east.

In Good Spirits
Hoover entered the metropolis area in good spirits and optimistic over the potential results of the approaching election. He told confidants that he was satisfied with the progress of the campaign everywhere and that was tantamount to predicting a sweeping victory for the Republican party.

He was particularly cheerful over reports reaching him of shifting tides in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, which indicated Republican victories in both states. His managers already look upon New Jersey as a Republican territory and Hoover's visit here was planned to help insure a victory in the Empire state.

Hoover faced one of the busiest days of his campaign here, with a program crowded from morning to night with conferences. His visit will be climaxed by delivery of a prepared address at Madison Square Garden tonight. Hoover took great pains in preparing his speech but at the last moment, eliminated several important sections because of its great length. In its final form, it will take about an hour to deliver and will revolve chiefly around the subject of the relationship between government and business.

Carries Battle
By discussing this subject in Smith territory, Hoover's managers believe he will carry the battle right to his Democratic rival. The Republican managers expressed confidence that Hoover will gain votes whenever business men compare the records of the two parties in their attitudes toward the regulation of business.

The nominee, even though in the "enemy stronghold," received a warm welcome on his arrival last (Continued on Page 4)

DAVEY TO SPEAK IN SALEM NOV. 2

Democratic Candidate for Governor Will Make
Tour of County

Martin Davey, Kent, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, will invade Columbiana county on Friday, Nov. 2, for three addresses.

Davey will visit Salem at 1 o'clock, Wellsville at 3 o'clock and East Liverpool at 5 o'clock, according to the tentative itinerary. The Wellsville meeting may be transferred to Lisbon and Wellsville party leaders urged to take part in the East Liverpool rally.

George S. Myers, Cleveland, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, will visit Salem Tuesday and East Liverpool on the following night, speaking in the municipal court room at 8 o'clock. He will be accompanied by another speaker, probably Allen McCurdy, New York.

Charles Truax, Bucyrus, state director of agriculture, and Democratic nominee for United States senator, is also expected to tour Columbiana county before the fall election. Date of his visit has not been announced.

Editor of Iron Age To Speak In Salem

A. I. Findley of New York, editor of Iron Age, a trade magazine, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Rotary club at noon Tuesday at the Elks home. He will be presented by Charles G. Burton.

BLOOD WILL TELL

When a quack comes around and tells us that by examining a drop of blood by means of an electrical contraption he can assure us that we have tuberculosis in the upper lobe of the right lung, or elsewhere equally specific, we have reason to be very skeptical. When, however, a Congress of Physicians and Scientists will listen to a report by one of their number—a report based partly upon research work, we must need at least be open-minded.

Among the enigmas modern students of race growth and decay have tried to fathom, none has been more baffling than the explanation of the disappearance from the earth of whole civilizations. As an example, there are the Mayas, that race of Americans which by the beginning of the Christian era had brought to being a civilization far advanced—as far perhaps as any of its time. Change of climate, the consequent failure of important crops, the appearance of some all-conquering disease, and subjugation by a race inferior in intelligence but more virile in body have been postulated as causes.

Men of science have long sought for explanations of the apparent inability of certain races to mix and be merged into one which could perpetuate itself. They have tried to find causes for certain racial frailties, as infertility and consequent childlessness, the prevalence of miscarriages and the diseases which seem hereditary.

Now comes Dr. Burghard Breitner, an eminent scientific student of Vienna, with the theory that such questions may be answered by assuming that there are several distinct blood groups among humans—groups which differ in the very nature of the blood serums and corpuscles. The result of their unions, as happens with individuals sometimes in cases of blood transfusion in medical practice, results with disaster in the development of a race. The absorption of a captive race by the victor, it may be seen, therefore, may bring about the destruction of both and the conquerors be conquered—a veritable Sampson pulling down the temple and dying with his captors.

ADVANCEMENT

The rising importance of women's position in the field of American life needs little comment. The height which women have attained in this country is most easily emphasized by contrast with the position of women in other countries. The level of women in Serbian Macedonia will serve to illustrate the relative conditions under which the women of the United States and those of that eastern country exist.

Women in Serbian Macedonia occupy an important position in the general order of things, in that nation, but this is for the sole reason that the males are in preponderance. The only value of the women is as wives and here they are doubly valuable. First, to their parents who can sell them for cash or collect on them by the installment plan. Second, to the husband as a sop to his pride, for to be single in Macedonia is an admission of inability to win a woman's love.

Such is the position of women in Macedonia, and even though important, it is certain that no American woman would trade her place in the world for that of a Macedonian woman. American women occupy a position of considerable standing not through the circumstance of abnormal ratio in the population of the sexes but because they have created for themselves a niche in the active and moving world of progress.

What Others Say

Prof. Arthur Posnansky and Dr. Rolf Muller, distinguished astronomers, recently have returned from South America, where they allege to have discovered indisputable evidence of the use of astronomy 13,000 years ago. Science will not dispute them, nor the historian of the earth's centuries. Job knew much of the stars of his far day and others before him. Night and the stars are of abiding interest, fit theme for high reflection. Many of these shining orbs were old in the days of ancient Chaldea, and before the Chaldean day. The early worshippers of Osiris and Osiris knew them and wondered upon them.

With the stars are identified the names of ancient and modern great lovers of the bespoken heavens—Copernicus, Kepler, Newton, Proctor, Flammarion. They have told us much of the story of these orbs, but we still yearn for the secrets they withhold.

Daniel from his observatories in the tower of Ecbatana and in the towers of Babylon looked and wondered and worshipped the wheeling worlds above the harsh Mesopotamian wastes. But Daniel knew also that a mighty Creator of the stars manipulated them in their courses. He saw their ordered beauty, and back of them he was conscious of God Himself.

And the eyes of the enlightened soul in every age have beheld the truth that Daniel learned and passed on to his pupil Zoroaster—Cincinnati Enquirer.

FOR SKIN IRRITATIONSPHYSICAL DISCIPLINE
AN EXCELLENT HABITBy Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Just now I saw a company of "Marines." I am on a railroad train, passing through New London, Conn. Apparently these boys are off a ship anchored in this port.

In a sense the Marines are "the first line of defense," they are the "shock troops." They are first in war, first in defense, first to maintain the rights of their country, no matter what uniform they wear. We affectionately call them "Devil Dogs."

But, of course it is not my present business to enlarge upon the military and naval establishments. What I have in mind is to speak of what physical discipline does for people. These outstanding, husky young men are not sturdy and strong merely because they are Marines. They have almost perfect physical health because the authorities insist upon right eating, hours for sleep and recreation regularly in all their habits.

There is a lesson in their good bodies for each of us. We need not join the Marines in order to get vigorous health. We may have it, whether we live in city or country, no matter what our occupation may be, provided we live regular lives.

Mortal man is the creature of habit. He can adapt himself to almost any program of living provided there is regularity in its application. Just how much sleep you need depends on your upbringing. When I was a boy, "to bed at 9 o'clock" was the rule. I got set to that arrangement and when I became a "city man," it was difficult to get used to the later hours practiced in the big town.

Old fashioned folks who always got up at 5 o'clock suffer if they have to stay in bed in the morning. It is the fixed habit and difficult to change.

People who have always had dinner at 12 o'clock noon, are dejected by hunger if there is an unwanted delay in the meal. The habit of eating is one of the strongest we possess.

I am not particularly interested in your daily habits, provided they are followed with unbroken regularity. The regularity is far more important than the program itself.

The reason why Sunday may be the day for a headache and why the next day is "Blue Monday," is because of the irregularity of sleeping and eating and "doing" hours of Sunday. The accustomed routine is broken and the body rebels.

Study your life. Your calling demands that you report for business at a certain hour every day. If it does not, it should.

It makes little difference what time you go to bed or get up, how much you sleep or how little, what time you eat or how much, how much you play or how you play—all these things make little difference, provided there is regularity in doing them.

That is the thing that counts. That is why the Marines thrive and have health. That is how you may be equally sturdy.

Regularity in doing is far more important than what you do, assuming of course that you are living sensibly.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Strict diets are often unnecessary in stomach trouble. While some foods do produce excessive acidity and many stomachs do generate "too much acid" causing gas, sourness, bloating and after-eating pains, the trouble may be safely and quickly corrected by the use of a good alkaline. Bismarck Magnesia—powder or tablets—is ideal for this purpose. Just a little after meals neutralizes all the excess acid, prevents souring, breaks up gas and ends indigestion. Favorite foods no longer upset stomach and digestion is easy and painless. It will do all this for you on money back. PHYSICAL DISCIPLINE
AN EXCELLENT HABITBy Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Just now I saw a company of "Marines." I am on a railroad train, passing through New London, Conn. Apparently these boys are off a ship anchored in this port.

In a sense the Marines are "the first line of defense," they are the "shock troops." They are first in war, first in defense, first to maintain the rights of their country, no matter what uniform they wear. We affectionately call them "Devil Dogs."

But, of course it is not my present business to enlarge upon the military and naval establishments. What I have in mind is to speak of what physical discipline does for people. HOTEL FIRE IN ATHENS CAUSES GUESTS TO FLEE

Woman Sustains Fracture
When Making Leap
To Safety

Athens, Oct. 22.—Fire early today drove more than a score of guests from the Hotel Berry here, in their night clothes, and caused a loss estimated at $60,000 before it was brought under control.

One woman, Miss Ray Mitchell, 24, regional director of the Girl Scouts in this district, sustained a broken leg when she jumped from a third story window.

The fire was discovered about 2 a. m. and had made great headway through an airshaft. The hotel, a four story structure was filled with smoke, while the lighting system was destroyed, as a result none of the 22 guests could use the corridors for their escape and were forced to jump.

All jumped to safety to a roof, three feet distant from the hotel, with the exception of Miss Mitchell. In her excitement, she missed her footing and fell to the ground. Ohio university students assisted the Athens fire department in subduing the blaze.

Cause of the fire so far is undetermined.

Airplane Lands On Highway; Strikes Auto Killing One

Hattiesburg, Miss., Oct. 22.—Larson Rogers, 16, Hattiesburg, was dead today and five members of his family, including his father, were recovering from injuries received as the result of a forced landing of the airplane of John Hagan, Orlando, Fla.

The accident occurred when Hagan attempted to land on the highway where Rogers' car was parked after three attempts to land on the field had been foiled by swarming crowds. The plane struck telephone wires, veered and crashed into the parked automobile.

HEATED BATTLE LOOMS IN TRIAL

Lorain Officer Charged
With Shooting Girl
In Automobile

Elyria, O., Oct. 22.—With the court room packed, and many others waiting in the corridors for an opportunity to enter the trial of Louis Cicco, former Lorain patrolman, charged with shooting with intent to wound, became a heated legal battle today.

Miss Betty Heywood, 22, of Elyria, was the first witness for the state, taking the stand shortly before noon. She wore a scarf about her head, similar to those worn by girl tennis players, to conceal the wound at the base of her skull, which Cicco is alleged to have inflicted.

Cicco, with Deputy Sheriff Klady and Patrolman Walter Knitter of Lorain, were watching for a run-running automobile at a highway bridge in Lorain on the night of Sept. 26. An automobile in which Miss Heywood was a passenger, failed to immediately heed their command to stop, the officers charge, and several shots were fired at it, allegedly by Cicco. One of them struck Miss Heywood.

Opening statements to the jury by prosecution and defense were made shortly after court opened this morning. George Glitsch, defense counsel, declared that but for "outside influences" the charges against Cicco would never have been pressed.

Cicco, he said, sent flowers to Miss Heywood while she was in the hospital and visited her several times. Miss Heywood, he said, had expressed the hope that there be no prosecution of Cicco.

Several character witnesses are to be introduced for Cicco, it was learned. Glitsch said the defense would also introduce a woman who "tipped" authorities that an automobile load of liquor was to be brought to Lorain on the night of Sept. 26, and described the automobile. The car in which Miss Heywood was riding and which the three officers attempted to stop was similar to that described by the woman, the defense attorney stated.

Prosperity Is Prevalent Agree Manufacturers In Convention

New York, Oct. 22.—The general prosperity of the nation received a convincing substantiation here today at the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers through a report on a survey which showed 93 per cent of 4,000 manufacturers with an increase in business over last year. Nearly 20 per cent of those answering the questionnaire declared that trade conditions are excellent and forecast continued expansion.

Every industry and product reported upon makes a better showing for the 12 months than the replies did a year ago. What was considered as a significant fact was that the building supply concerns do not show that the building trades have decreased activities. The outlook for winter building throughout the country is regarded as favorable by only less than 15 per cent than those predicting the same last year.

A slight improvement in the textile industry, one which has been regarded as a weak spot in the industrial army, is now shown by the manufacturers' survey. Eighty-eight per cent of the textile men report favorable conditions, compared with 83 per cent last year. Better expectations for winter trade harbored by 94 per cent of the nation's industrialists.

The supply of all classes of labor is regarded as normal, although 13 per cent of the employers report a shortage of skilled workers and 2 per cent need unskilled labor. In 1927 only 8 per cent were asking for more skilled labor.

Wage increases were made by 77.4 per cent of the industries, 4.5 per cent being large increases and 72.9 per cent smaller. A state of virtually complete industrial peace exists, more than 99 per cent of the associations members being free from strikers or lockouts. Increased production over 1927 is reported by 65 per cent of the concerns, against 50 per cent for last year.

The relation of railway transportation to the economic welfare of the nation was discussed by Landon C. Bell of Columbus. He made a vigorous attack on what he termed unfair freight rates and cited the example of the West Virginia coal industry and its relation to the railroads and to the competing field of the northern field. He accused the interstate commerce commission with "continuous assistance" to the Northern coal operators. He warned that this was not a local problem but that it involved dangerous precedents which might affect various industries.

Stressing the importance of railroad prosperity to the general net work of industry, E. B. Leigh, president of the Chicago Railway Equipment company, pointed out that when the railroad make normal expenditures on their properties to keep service up to standard, general business is good.

S. P. Bush of the American Rolling mill of Middletown, O., declared that the stabilization of employment of both labor and capital was one of the paramount problems before the country today. Particularly the purchasing power of the workingman should be on a firm and steady basis, he said. He believes that railway transportation holds a great responsibility in solving this problem and urges scientific analysis of the issues involved.

ACCIDENT FATAL TO AUTO RACER

Another Burned As Car
Is Afire; Crash Near
End of Race

Cincinnati, Oct. 22.—Earl Calvin, 33, Indianapolis, auto racer, was dead and Al Thiesen, 21, Detroit, was in a hospital here today, suffering from burns, the result of two accidents which marred the running of the Coney Island speedway 100-mile race here yesterday.

Calvin, with 97 laps of the one-mile track completed and only three more to go, suddenly flashed through the barrier, the steering gear on his car locking and causing the car to crash. He was taken to a hospital where he died last night.

Thiesen, earlier in the race, swerved into the fence, flames spouting from his machine. Before he could be pulled from the car he had been painfully, though not seriously, bruised and burned.

The race, carrying with it the 100-mile mid-west championship, was won by Bob Carey, of Dayton, time 1:51.2.

SEBRING LEGION CONDUCTS DRIVE

Debt On Home Is Object Of Effort To Raise Money

Sebring, Oct. 22.—A concerted drive to wipe out the indebtedness of the American Legion home here is to be started by local business men and civic organizations in the near future as the result of recent conferences of representatives of the legion with the business men's organization.

The representatives of the legion, who undertook the building of the home, say that they are unable to retire the principal of the debt, although they have been successful in keeping the interest paid and in keeping the building in good repair.

Several spokesmen of the business men say they believe the legion's home, which was erected as a memorial to the Sebring men who served during the late World war is a public project and should be supported by the general public, although it is being maintained by the legion.

No definite plans for lifting the debt on the building have been worked out, but a committee is now considering a number of proposals, and the drive is to be started in a short time.

HOOVER

night. About 5,000 persons jammed the Pennsylvania station and the streets outside to get a glimpse of the candidate as he was whisked, under police escort, to headquarters in the Waldorf-Astoria. Hoover smiled and waved greetings to the crowds, which extended in lesser numbers, all the way to his hotel.

Rises Early
The nominee arose early this morning in order to keep his first appointment—a breakfast conference. Over his eggs and coffee, Hoover discussed the eastern situation with a host of Republican leaders from all points of the Atlantic seaboard. Among his guests were Charles D. Hillis, national committeeman; H. Edmund MacHold, state chairman; Dr. Hubert Work, national chairman; Senator George D. Moses and Daniel E. Pomeroy, national vice chairman; William H. Hill, Hoover manager; James Francis Burke, his personal adviser; former Ambassador James R. Sheffield; Alfred E. Marling, Herbert N. Strauss, Rep. John Q. Tilson, Jeremiah Milbank, Samuel Koenig, county chairman, General James G. Harbord and Henry A. Cushing.

Following the breakfast, Hoover was to meet newspapermen and then plunge into a series of receptions that will last until 4 o'clock this afternoon. Among the groups scheduled to pay respects to him, will be editors of foreign language newspapers, leaders of a dozen groups of alien-born citizens, the Theatrical League, the Republican Service leagues and editors of New York Daily papers.

The nominee's next public appearance probably will be his departure for his home at Stanford University, California, to vote. At present, his plans call for leaving Washington on November first, with stops in Wheeling, and Charleston, W. Va., possibly in Indianapolis, and a speech in St. Louis. He will probably take the overland route again with near-platform appearances in Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado, and Utah. His itinerary, however, has not been decided definitely and new plans may be arranged before he departs.

Q—What is Senator Curtis' stand on prohibition?

A—He is uncompromisingly for law enforcement. In his speech of acceptance he said: "For the Federal Government now to adopt or even to propose or to favor a policy which will result in allowing each state to determine for itself the alcoholic content of beverages to be manufactured, sold and transported throughout the country, would be a direct and indefensible attempt on its part to evade or to repudiate the responsibility so delegated and assumed." "without any justification for such action."

Q—Did Mr. Hoover fix the price of wheat during the war as asserted by Democratic speakers?

A—Mr. Hoover had nothing whatever to do with determining the price of wheat. The basic price of wheat during the war was fixed at $2.20 a bushel by the fair-price committee of twelve, appointed by President Wilson. Dr. Harry Garfield, president of Williams college, was chairman.

Q—How old is the Republican party?

A—It came into existence as a political factor at Jackson, Mich., in 1856, when Fremont was nominated as president.

Gardner started action to dispose of the new trial plea Jaworski left behind him when he shot his way out of the county jail 14 months ago.

Jaworski's appeal was placed before visiting Judge J. Frank Graff today. A decision disallowing the plea of the bandit will be followed immediately by a sentence to execution for the murder of Isaiah Gump, payroll guard in the Mollenhauer holdup on December 24, 1925. Gardner indicated.

ACTIVE STOCKS SHOW GAINS IN HEAVY TRADING

Ticker Falls Behind In Rush from Week-End Buying Orders

COPPERS FORGING AHEAD RAPIDLY

Call Money Plentiful At Six and One-Half Percent

New York, Oct. 22.—An accumulation of week end buying orders forced prices of most of the active stocks to higher levels at the beginning of trading today.

The turnover was so heavy that the ticker fell behind ten minutes in the first half hour, speculation having spread to a widely diversified list. The rails made a good showing, both in activity and price buoyancy, and most of the star performers of last week were ready to resume their dazzling climb.

Conservatism in the ranks of some of the important speculative leaders stimulated further profit-taking and contribution in a number of the well known stocks, as the result of which the market developed an irregular trend near the end of the first hour.

The Coppers forged ahead confidently under the lead of Kennecott, American Smelting and Anaconda, with a number of the low-priced issues like Nevada Consolidated and Alaska Juneau in strong position.

Expectation of a special announcement in the International-Mend Nickel companies' merger stimulated active buying of Nickel stock around 180, a slight advance over Saturday's close. Katy, was again the leader of the non-dividend railroad shares, and reached a new high for the year above 45 in active trading.

Chandler Motors common and preferred sold up about 2 points each, in continuation of the movement which had been in progress a week or more.

Call money loaned at 6 1/2 per cent, with prospects of a good supply of funds over the month end. Commodity markets were firm, with cotton up 20 points, and grain prices fractionally higher. Copper buying was in good volume, with producers predicting 16 cents a pound after the turn of the year.

BURNING PLANE

York mail to Cleveland Thursday morning the people of Marlboro. Atwater and Limaville refused to abandon the hunt for fear some pilot was lying near death some where in the triangle of territory between the towns.

Maj. John Berry, superintendent of Cleveland airport, placed little credence in the report of the crash. "It's awfully dark at 4 in the morning," he said. "Nobody flies at that hour but the mail and no mail lines pass anywhere near Alliance or Marlboro. Besides, if anyone had crashed I would probably have received word of it. I heard nothing, and there are no planes or pilots unaccounted for at the airport."

The possibility was seen, however, that a flyer from one of the numerous roadside flying fields that dot the state had gone up for a morning flight and met with disaster. No accurate check can be kept on these small private fields.

COURT NEWS

Many Divorces Are Awarded In Court Of Columbia Co.

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty a divorce has been granted by Judge W. F. Lones to the plaintiff in the case of Elizabeth Williams against her husband Andrew J. Williams. The plaintiff has been restored to her maiden name Elizabeth Campbell, and both plaintiff and defendant have been barred by the court from claiming a dower interest in the property of the other.

Extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty was set up in the divorce petition filed by Elizabeth Bradley against her husband, George E. Bradley, and a decree has been obtained by the plaintiff upon the payment of costs.

Gross neglect of duty was charged in the divorce petition filed by Marjorie R. Powell against her husband, Kenneth P. Powell, and a decree has been granted the plaintiff. She has had an order issued restoring her to her maiden name, Marjorie R. Hull.

Awarded Child
After a divorce decree had been handed down in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Olive M. Rohrbach against her husband, Talma Rohrbach, on the grounds of extreme cruelty, the custody of minor children was awarded the plaintiff. The court entered into the record that Rohrbach shall be permitted to visit his children at the residence of the plaintiff once a week at a reasonable hour.

There was a hearing on the motion for temporary alimony in the divorce case of Esther L. Cordwin against her husband, Harry A. Cordwin and the court ordered the defendant to pay the plaintiff $50 within 10 days and in addition $5 per week for the support of children.

Restraining Order
A temporary restraining order has been allowed in the divorce and alimony action filed in common pleas by Romaine E. Caphart against her husband, Louis M. Caphart. The latter has been restrained from disposing or placing an encumbrance on his property in East Liverpool during the pendency of the suit. The order was granted as prayed for in the petition and without bond.

Harry Monroe has been ordered to pay his wife, Mejeila J. Monroe, $35 as temporary alimony within 30 days and to also pay her $10 per week for the support of minors, the latter payment to be made weekly.

An order has also been made by the court in the divorce case of Esther Lanning against her husband Jerry H. Lanning that the defendant pay the plaintiff $6 per week for the support of minors during the pendency of the action.

Alimony
Lyndell Stillwell, who has been sued for divorce by his wife, Mary Stillwell, has been ordered to pay the plaintiff $5 per week for support of minors, and in addition $50 temporary alimony.

Ira Davis, 1063 West Ely st., Alliance has been charged with gross neglect of duty in a petition for divorce filed against her by her husband David Davis, who is represented by Attorney E. P. Speidel of Alliance. Davis resides on a rural route out of Kensington.

The couple were married May 16, 1926, and the petition sets up that just two years later to the day, Mrs. Davis left her husband. He also alleges that he has asked his wife to return to him, but that she has refused, and told him last Wednesday that she would not live with him.

Howard E. Metz of Struthers, is named defendant in a petition for divorce filed by Mrs. Metz, the former being represented by Attorney John E. Bauknecht of East Palestine.

They were married at Lisbon Dec. 21, 1921 and have two children. Since Metz left his wife he has made partial payments for the support of his children, the custody of which is sought by the mother. A decree and alimony is also asked for in the petition.

A.K.s. Damages
An action for $20,000 damages has been filed in common pleas court by Rose Metz, a minor, through her next friend Dominic Metz, against the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co. The petition, filed by Atty. W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville, sets up that the plaintiff was a passenger on a car of the defendant company at 3 o'clock the afternoon of Jan. 23 last, boarding it in the Diamond at East Liverpool to go to Wellsville.

It is declared by the plaintiff that the floor of the car was slippery and dangerous, and that she was thrown off her feet against a seat and severely injured, which caused her to remain in bed five weeks. Medical attention is said to have cost $200, and because of her injuries, the petition sets up that the plaintiff will suffer through life.

In the $50,000 damage case filed by Alice Ramsey as administratrix against the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company, a jury in common pleas court has returned a verdict in favor of the defendant company.

Enters Plea
Robert Foster, indicted by the September grand jury for manslaughter, entered a plea of not guilty when he appeared before Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court. His bond was placed at $2,000. The indictment against the defendant was the result of an automobile accident in which a death followed.

Overrules Motion
Judge E. W. Diehl, of Canton, sitting as an assigned court in No. 2 court room, overruled the motion to dissolve the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Lones in the case of Samuel Gromet and John Recht, partners doing business in the St. Clair avenue market house, East Liverpool, against J. J. Allen. The court has

LAW ENFORCEMENT
Dear Editor:
We often hear the slogan "Prohibition don't prohibit" which is quite correct for along with law we have to have respect for law for it to become effective.

We happened to find the following and we are wondering, in these days of so much corruption of all kinds, whether amongst those who feel the country is slipping, we have any who would be willing to make a similar offer to Philadelphia or even our own city.

While we are willing to admit conditions are not ideal by any means we do believe there has been a marked improvement in most places since the passing of the open saloon.

This offer was made by none other than P. T. Barnum, the famous showman and was a bonafide offer. He said:

"I will undertake to give bond for the fulfillment of a contract that if the city of Philadelphia will stop selling liquor, and give me as much as was expended for liquor last year to run the city next year, I will pay all the city expenses, no one shall pay taxes, and there shall be no insurance on property, and a good suit of clothes shall be given to every poor man, woman and child, and a barrel of flour to every needy and worthy person, and then I shall make a half million dollars by the operation."

We still believe the world is getting better and that the American people will not take a backward step when they go to the polls this fall.

ED. F. STRATTON.

HE'S FOR WITT
Editor, The News:
I do not expect to vote for either Hoover or Smith, but I have been intimately acquainted with Peter Witt for 30 years, and would advise each and every man and woman in or near Salem, to hear him on Tuesday evening at High School auditorium regardless of political preference, because he is a wonderful entertainer on any subject. He takes the common people in his confidence and they can't help liking him. His satire, speaking in metaphor, is like unto a two-edge blade; very sharp. It does not mangle, but cuts clean and deep; especially where the disease is dangerous and destructive to political and economic health. It would be safe to offer a prize to any hearer who could refrain from smiling or from wide-awakefulness during Peter's speech. Let's all go to see and hear him, whether he makes a vote for Al Smith or not.

TROOPERS TAKE MANY PRISONERS

Police Blotter Looks Like Social Register After Roadhouse Raids

Camden, N. J., Oct. 22.—Bail had not been obtained today by all of the 782 persons arrested and put in jail early yesterday by state troopers in a sensational raid upon seven roadhouses near here to enforce the Sunday closing laws.

Those arrested included matrons prominent in Southern New Jersey society, leading business men, gangsters and fun molls, and proprietors and employees of the roadhouses. The raids carefully planned, were executed by troopers who arrested everybody in the places visited.

The raiders commandeered commercial buses from Philadelphia and carried the protesting patrons and proprietors here to the county jail which was filled to overflowing.

The more prominent of the prisoners were making dire threats today as to retaliatory steps which they declared they would take against those responsible for the raid.

Truck Accident Fatal

"LILAC TIME"

Against the thunderous background of war-torn France, with flying aces zooming in the air overhead and the backwash of the world's most terrible conflict bringing panic to the peasantry, a little ship of a girl in simple frocks takes you to great emotional heights, wings a heart-throb here and a tear there, as you follow her through one of the greatest romances ever told.

That, in a sentence, is "Lilac Time," new special picture starring Colleen Moore at the Grand theater.

"Lilac Time" is not a war picture. It is a picture of the effects of war and like all great pictures it is realistic, simple. We see Miss Moore as a pathetic little figure caught in the maelstrom of the conflict. She loves a dashing young aviator who flies away each morning to gamble with death and returns in the evening to laugh and joke about it. We know the war is somewhere in the background, ominous and foreboding, but that is forgotten in the charming love story that unfolds before us. Jeannine loves her man and her man loves Jeannine, nothing else matters.

"Lilac Time" is based on the stage play by Jane Cowl and Jane Murn and in its transformation has gained a poignant, gripping realism that will long be remembered.

Gary Cooper, remembered for his ing, but that is forgotten in the charming love story that unfolds before us. Jeannine loves her man and her man loves Jeannine, nothing else matters.

sterling portrayals in "Beau Sabreur" and "The Legion of the Condemned" does the finest work of his career in "Lilac Time" as Jeannine's sweetheart. Richard Grace and other fine players.

Three staterooms, side by side, on a trans-Atlantic steamship, furnish the locale for most of the riotously funny action that takes place in "Just Married," the cinematic version of the famous stage farce by Anne Nichols, author of "Abie's Irish Rose," which is at the State.

Salem High Takes Possession Of Another County Grid Scalp

Wellsville Threatens When Early Attack Is Dangerously Effective

Salem High's undefeated grid machine marched to its fifth consecutive victory of the season at Wellsville Saturday afternoon, but only after it was given its biggest scare of the year by the Orange and Black, which displayed an unexpected offensive attack and kept the Stonemen on the defensive throughout the first half.

Over-confidence—the bugaboo of many athletic teams—was the principal element in Salem's failure to roll up the expected large margin victory over Wellsville. Floyd Stone's warriors were far below standard, but managed to come through with a 16-0 victory.

From several standpoints, it was one of the most exciting of the year—when the hope is upset the way it was Saturday, a thriller is always the result—but from the Salem High view, it was far from satisfactory. All in all, Salem was fortunate, very much so to roll up 16 points, and none of these came through any straight football.

Captain Jimmy Scullion scored the first marker, grabbing a Wellsville fumble in the third quarter and dashed 45 yards for points. Glenn Whinnery added the extra point by sliding off tackle for five yards. Augie Corso added two more via a safety just before the period ended. The final score came in the last quarter, when Salem completed its only pass of the game, one which Sidinger heaved 25 yards into Polly Sartick's arms, Sartick running five yards for the score. Sidinger's perfect dropkick ended scoring.

Score Salem Fans

Wellsville threw a mighty scare into the Salem fans a few minutes after the game started, taking the ball after the kickoff and parading down the field. Snowden, Pacey and Checkler alternated ripping off long gains around the ends and on off-tackle plays, carrying the ball 70 yards to the Salem five-yard line. Here, with first down and five yards to the goal, the Salem defense bucked up, Corso stopping Snowden in his tracks, while Van Blaricom dropped Williams for a three-yard loss. Checkler made two more through center, but failed to gain on the last down, and it was Salem's ball.

Salem here started a march down the field, Patsy Konert reeling off two runs for 28 yards. Sidinger added five and then punted, the ball rolling over the Wellsville goal. Snowden ripped off two runs for a first down, but was forced to punt when two other plays failed. Returning Snowden's punt, Patsy Konert made the most sensational return of the year, eluding the entire Wellsville team for a run of 38 yards, and with a clear field for a touchdown ahead of him, slipped and fell. Patsy made a first down on the first play, but Salem was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness. A pass was incomplete, and Sidinger punted, Jimmy Scullion beating his ends down and dropping Pacey in his tracks.

No Scoring Threat The rest of the half was played with the ball in Salem's possession most of the time, but unable to even threaten to score. Wellsville received the kickoff in the third period, and on the first play, Scullion scooped up the Wellsville fumble for the first score.

Salem's biggest trouble of this season again came to the fore a few minutes later, when on two occasions it had the ball within the Wellsville 10-yard line. The scoring punch just wasn't there.

On the first time, a mix-up in signals caused a fumble, Wellsville recovering. Wellsville punted out of danger, Konert returning the ball 15 yards to the 25. Sidinger made 16 around left end, but four straight plays failed, and Wellsville was given the ball on downs. Trying to punt, Pacey fumbled the ball, it rolling into the end zone, where Corso recovered it for two points.

In the last quarter, Salem continued its powerful offensive in the middle of the field, but was unable to gain ground when yards might have meant points. Failing to gain in Wellsville's territory with line plunges, Sidinger threw a 25-yard pass to Sartick, who ran five yards for the final touchdown.

For Wellsville Snowden was the outstanding player, playing on the line on defense, and fullback on offense. Sidinger punted off a few long runs, together with Konert, Jimmy Scullion played nice ball.

Joie Ray Loses Out In Indoor Marathon

New York, Oct. 22.—The victory of El Quasi in the Olympic marathon race three months ago was not a fluke. The wiry Algerian taxi driver proved that much here last night when he conquered a field of eight other international marathon stars, including Joie Ray, in a professional marathon at Madison Square Garden last night. It was the famous Tex Rickard's first international marathon championship race. The race was one of the greatest marathon duels ever witnessed. Ray took the lead away from the Olympic champion several times and was in front as late as the 22nd mile. Then El Quasi took the lead and was never headed. The complete distance was 26 miles and 385 yards. The winner's time was 2 hours, 44 minutes, 55 2-5 seconds.

Salem Youth Stars Ohio State Victory Over Michigan Team

Charles Byron Coffee, who four years ago graduated from Salem High and was rated as one of the best all-around athletes ever produced by the Red and Black, again rose to gridiron fame Saturday, when he starred in Ohio State's first victory over Michigan in seven years.

One Columbus writer is quoted as saying after the game, "To our way of thinking Coffee was the outstanding offensive threat of the Ohio machine." Coffee made a total of 60 yards in 12 attempts, having the best average in yardage gained, and played an excellent game from his post as safety man.

In the first quarter, when Michigan scored its only touchdown, through a failure of the radio announcer to see a play correctly, fans listening in to play by play accounts of the game, were given the impression that Coffee fumbled a punt, and paved the way for the score. Coffee accidentally touched the ball in trying to complete one of the headiest plays of the game, when he tried to block out two Michigan ends, coming down the field trying to ground a punt before it passed over the Ohio goal.

Just as Coffee dove for the ends, the ball took a bad bounce and touched him. Bovard falling on it for the score.

Coffee is a junior and is playing his second year as a regular with the Scarlet and White. He is the son of Mrs. Margaret Coffee, McKinley ave.

New York Firemen In Hot Game

New York, Oct. 22.—Barney Barnett, manager of the football team of the Los Angeles fire department, said today that he planned to arrange a contest every year with the New York firemen, who suffered a 57 to 0 defeat at hands of the California gridders here yesterday. Thirty seven thousand fans saw the crushing defeat of the local fire fighters and 60,000 tickets were sold for the charity affair, a benefit for the widows, orphans and firemen's fund.

Canton Team Trims Pottsville Maroons

Canton, Oct. 22.—The Rogers Jewelers upset the Pottsville (Pa.) Maroons of the National Professional Football League here Sunday afternoon 18 to 6. Taylor put Canton on its way to victory when he picked up a loose ball in the first period and raced 90 yards for a touchdown. Pottsville tied the count in the third when Moran intercepted a pass and ran 75 yards.

Intercepted passes and runs of 40 and 20 yards by Marker and Cunningham brought the final Canton scores in the third and fourth periods.

New York—Notwithstanding her plans to become Lady Northesk, Peggy Joyce intends to be on the stage. She has been selected to star in an adaptation of a French play known as "The Fastidious Lover."

WOODS and WATERS by HOMER BOW

The weather this fall has been exceptionally favorable to those who care to fish Ohio rivers for bass. Rain was absent to a point where farmers felt ill effects. Rivers as a result were very low and clear and some excellent catches of bass were reported. Helgramites were plentiful and were the best bait available, fishermen stated.

Speaking of the weather, an old fisherman and hunter was talking to several of us the other day and he pointed out that weather ran in cycles and that he could tell what the season was going to be.

He said that 20 years ago last winter there was but little snow and that the fall was very dry. Farmers fed ensilage as pastures dried up. Then 10 years later the same thing occurred and the fall was nearly as dry. This winter occurred when many of the hunters of America were overseas.

In the case of the mild winter and dry fall, severe winter followed. Ten years ago, he stated, highways were covered with snow from early winter until spring. This most of us can recall.

Therefore this coming winter should be a severe one. Heavy hulls on nuts, fur coats of animals and other signs were pointed out as being indicative of plenty of cold weather before next spring.

Fishermen are about through for the year, although the official weather man promises some good weather yet. Squirrel season is a thing of the past and but few ducks have come south; so the outdoors man can do but little except exercise his rabbit dogs and await November and rabbit hunting. Rabbits should be plentiful this year. There were far more in evidence last spring than I have ever noted. This was perhaps due to the limit being cut to five per day. The weather was exceptionally favorable to propagation this year and it is almost an inevitable thing that hunting for bunnies is going to be better than it has for many years. Some hunters may have bad luck,

ARMY'S BAD NEWS FOR HARVARD

"Red" Murrell (above), the giant fullback of the Army eleven, proved to be a great nuisance to the Harvard lineemen when the two teams mixed matters Saturday at Cambridge. Murrell and Chris Cagle, the right halfback, were the targets for the Crimson's defenders.

Late-Game Attacks Figure Strongly For Victorious Combines

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, Oct. 22.—After looking over Saturday's football results, I have reached the conclusion that the sap who said they never come back must have been talking about shirts from the laundry or something. Otherwise, Ohio State would be nursing another Michigan hangover this morning; reason would be tottering on its pedestal from a defeat of Missouri by Iowa State and Wisconsin would have been beaten by Purdue for the first time in years.

As it was, Missouri, trailing by 19 to 0 at half time, flashed a comeback comparable only to Pennsylvania's famous rally against Michigan back in 1912, scored 28 points in the final half and won the ball game.

Ohio State Wins
Old Doctor Fumblefinger, the all-American drawback, was responsible for the Tigers' early-period embarrassment. The doctor likewise had Ohio State in the hole by 7 to 6 at the end of the first period, a Buckeye back staking Michigan to a score by touching the ball as it rolled over the goal. After that, class would not be denied, Michigan getting only a single first down in the game.

As for Wisconsin, it was 12 points down to Purdue at the end of the first period but pulled out a 19 to 19 tie. The doctor, however, had to come to the Badger's assistance when they were a touchdown behind and Purdue seemed about to send its total well in to the twenties with another score.

However, the circumstances in question were needed to keep the day from going completely haywire. For instance, the greatly esteemed Alabama outfit finished second to Tennessee, 15 to 13, in one of the major shocks of the day. Another saw Oregon romp over Washington on the coast by 27 to 0 and it is presumed that Georgia Tech's 13 to 6 defeat of Notre Dame came as a major shock to everyone who didn't know what Tech could do.

Middies Victorious
The fact that the Navy, beaten in the closing minutes of Notre Dame and do no better than 6 to 9 against Duke would seem to indicate that the 1928 Irish are far from fool-proof. The Navy on Saturday almost qualified for the list of notable victims again, Duke taking the play away from the Middies for the most part.

I suppose, too, that California's scoreless tie with U. S. C. comes under the head of unorthodox developments, another undoubtedly being Bucknell's tie with Lafayette and a third the 12 to 12 deadlock of Dartmouth and the Quakers.

Marines, California was outscored in first down, 13 to 5, but kept the Trojans outside the 20-yard line and fairly earned its stand off. Georgia Tech simply isn't the kind of football proposition to be beaten by Notre Dame, or anyone every time out, particularly when it happens to possess the better team. As for Bucknell, it not only got a scoreless tie but was nearer a touchdown than Lafayette was able to venture. There is no accounting for Oregon's 27 points against Washington except by saying that obviously, the McEwan system has begun to click.

COLUMBIA STAR BADLY INJURED

New York, Oct. 22.—Columbia lost more than a football game last Saturday. Hank Kumpf, of Buffalo, N. Y., backfield ace, suffered a fractured ankle in the Dartmouth game and will be out for the rest of the year. It was believed today.

Ed Jeremiah, Dartmouth's understudy for Al Marsters, bruised his shoulder severely and it is feared that he will be lost to the team the greater part of the season.

Forward Pass Play Deciding Factor Of Well Played Battle

The Alliance Fairmount Bulls, rated well-up in semi-pro grid circles of eastern Ohio, opposed the Salem-Sebring Altogether Studebaker all-star combine Sunday afternoon and were defeated, 6-0. Given little chance for a win over the Bulls by Salem and Sebring fans, the Studebakers outplayed the Alliance team for three quarters of the game, and were never in danger until the last few minutes, when the Alliance aggregation unleashed a strong end-running and forward pass offensive that carried the ball 60 yards to the Salem five-yard line, where the end of the game stopped the march.

The Studebakers' score came in the third quarter, Frank Hogue throwing a forward pass which Mike Sartick picked out of a gathering of three Alliance backfield defenses, and romped 20 yards for points. Hogue's dropkick for the extra point failed.

The first half of the game amounted to little more than a kicking duel between Firth and Hogue, with play almost entirely in midfield. Alliance was given an opportunity to score when Shuster fumbled a punt, Shaffer falling on it on the Salem 20-yard line, but was not able to carry it over.

Bulls Rally
The final two periods were full of interest and excitement with the Studebakers having the edge in the excitement for the first quarter. Alliance was on the defensive throughout this period, but in the last when Jimmy Firth ripped off several neat end runs, and passed to Shaffer for repeated gains, the situation changed.

With two minutes to play, Alliance had the ball on the five yard line, but two line plays were stepped in succession by Vollmer, as the final whistle blew.

Hogue, missing from the lineup last week, added a lot to the two-city aggregation, and was the outstanding player for the Studebakers. Simonds, Nigel and Jones, starred on the line. For Alliance, Firth in the backfield, and Reeder and Shaffer on the line scintillated.

TALKING FILMS BRING WORRY TO ENGLISH STAGE

London, Oct. 22.—Full-length talking pictures have at last arrived in England and English is worried about them.

Vaudeville performers, musicians, and producers of the ordinary silent films are considerably distressed over the success which the "talkies" have already achieved—although the first full-length picture was shown only a few weeks ago.

There are fears that the talking movies will put an end to the need for stage entertainment in picture houses. There are even greater fears that cinema musicians will no longer be needed when pictures with their own musical accompaniment arrive, and even the picture producers are worried.

To Hurt Employment

"The talking picture is a wonderful invention," said Monte Bailey, secretary of the Variety Artists' Federation, which corresponds to the N. V. A. in America. "But I am afraid it will put out of work a lot of music hall artists who are earning a living at the cinema—possibly, five or six hundred of them."

The Musicians' union is not exactly in a state of panic, but its officials feel that in the course of time talking films might constitute a real menace to the orchestras in the smaller movie houses.

End of Orchestras

"The end of orchestras was predicted when the phonograph came in, and then again when broadcast started," said an official of the union. "But orchestras are doing just as well as ever before and perhaps even better."

The talking films are causing the same sort of sensation here now that prevailed in New York six or eight months ago. Their novelty has made an immediate impression, and London has been quick to see the practicability of the scheme. Thousands of provincial theaters throughout England will benefit from the idea, for many of them are too small to employ large orchestras.

VIENNA'S MUSIC SEASON BRINGS NEW INSTRUMENT

Vienna, Oct. 22.—The Vienna music season began with a sensation; a new musical instrument or rather music without an instrument was introduced to the critical audience of the Vienna Concerthouse, at a recent performance.

The success of the "Spherophone" of the French Prof. Maurice Matenot was tremendous, the music plucked from the air by his band won an unprecedented unanimous praise.

Like Radio Set

The Spherophone is an improved instrument of the type which was first presented about a year ago at the Frankfurt Music Exposition. It looks like a middle-sized radio receiving set, and it is, indeed, very similarly constructed.

Its principal parts are vacuum tubes, which produce the tones, if alternating currents of varying frequencies are conducted over them and movable wire rolls, which control the frequency and thus the height of the tones, produced in the tubes.

The intensity of the tones is regulated with the strength of the current between the Spherophone and a loud speaker, which belongs to the apparatus.

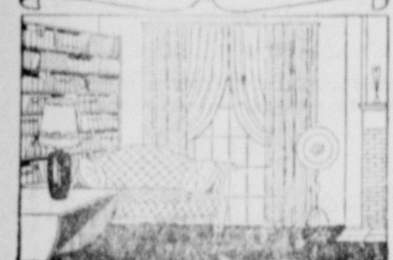

Forceful Music

Prof. Matenot's vibrating fingers, which seem to be moving in the air, produce a marvelously clear, sweet and forceful music. Whole notes, halves, quarters, even sixteens, sound like a deep organ, once resembling a flute, a violin, a harp, and some times a human voice, are united into a pure and perfect music enchanting the audience and overwhelming the critics.

Works of Beethoven, Mozart, Bach and Schubert were played by Matenot, who was accompanied by his wife, Genevieve upon the grand piano.

It was an undisputed success. The general opinion is that the Spherophone is one of the most important inventions in the history of music. Prof. Matenot will probably visit America next season.

NEW DRAPERIES For A FEW CENTS By Mae Martin

As we realize nowadays how bright-colored draperies seem to invite people in, and how warm touches of color in spreads, cushions and runners help to make us love our own surroundings.

No woman need deny herself these touches of cheer, because they can easily be had at the expense of a few cents and a little planning. Curtains that are faded or drab in color can be made bright and pleasing with a package or so of Diamond Dyes. Then spreads, covers, runners, etc., can be tinted or dyed to match. Anyone can do it. Tinting with Diamond Dyes give true, fadeless colors. They are the kind of dyes used when the cloth was made. Only Diamond Dyes produce perfect results. Insist on them and save disappointment.

My new book, "Color Craft," gives hundreds of dollar-saving suggestions for beautifying your home and clothes; 64 pages, fully illustrated in colors. It's FREE. Just write Mae Martin, Home Service Department, Diamond Dyes, Burlington, Vermont.

Versailles Treaty Benefits Germany Is British Claim

London, Oct. 22.—That the treaty of Versailles has been of the utmost benefit to the German nation is the claim of spokesmen for the British government.

They argue that the debarring of Germany from the possession of military aircraft has given her the means to provide herself with the finest and most complete commercial aeroplane service in the world. In support of this they point to the fact that Germany can afford to subsidize the Lufthansa lines to the extent of 70 per cent.

They further claim that the limitations on Germany's military strength has enabled her to form the most efficient and best equipped small army of the world—an army which is believed to cost more than all Britain's armaments, and which is capable of being enlarged to any degree with utmost ease.

It is further asserted that because the actual penal clauses of the treaty have not been put into

The Too Often Neglected Attic

The attic of our childhood is one of our dearest memories. Sometimes the attic is neglected for a long period of years when all of a sudden another bedroom is needed, or a studio, playroom, or workshop, or sewing room. Then the attic again comes into its own. Its years of loneliness forgiven and forgotten, the attic lends itself readily to new ideas and repays us for all the work we put on it.

One attic we know was in a house with a peaked roof and the attic windows were of the eyebrow variety. Cutting off the peak was a rough beamed ceiling, the eaves were clapped, the windows, while not altered in shape from the outside appearance, had window frames put in that opened out with bar catches. The floor was scraped and had the cracks filled, then it was painted a delightful shade of blue with a 12-inch black border and large line circles of black, looped one in another, to form an ornamental pattern. The ceiling and side walls were wood-filled, then oiled and left the natural oak color. Blue painted furniture, the bed with covering and valance of dainty blue and pink chintz, blue theatrical gauze curtains were at the windows, and blue and white rugs on the floor. Black bookshelves were built along the wall on one side of the room. At one corner of the attic a complete though small bathroom had been installed.

A door opener was put onto the door at the foot of the stairs and in response to the sounds of the knocker the door was opened from above. This insured the desired privacy. A small upright piano al-

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Oct. 22.—To make the women look even more like dainty dolls, chic dressmakers are using many waxed materials for autumn and winter costumes.

The favorite is probably black satin, waxed in such a manner that it is delightfully shiny and supple at the same time. Evening frocks made of it are swathed about the figure and draped in all sorts of original designs at the side or back. Black taffeta is also in new fashion and a charming model made of it has two huge choux and long panels at the back of the waist.

Black crepe (waxed) is combined with waxed satin in an effective dinner frock of lacquered gold and grey brocade. The skirt is full at the sides and the bodice has a smart little jacket front with a row of tiny gold buttons in the middle.

Semi-circular motifs of crepe form a border on the edge of both the jacket and skirt of a smart tailor of black broadcloth and the same trimming comes on a long coat which has a waist-length cape cut in original manner over the shoulders.

Leather satin is another new material with a waxed appearance, used for coats and frocks in interesting designs. One coat has a quilted hem causing the natural flare of the skirt to be exaggerated. Wide cuffs are in the same style.

A Fashion Model's Diary

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE
She Discusses the Latest Lingerie.

"SPEAKING OF THE COMES OF inanimate objects," said Helen the other day—she must have heard somebody say that, she'd never been able to think up that phrase by herself—"I really do think that stockings and underwear have a consciousness all of their own—and that they spend their time agreeing that they'll look perfectly elegant up to a given date and then all collapse at once."

"Mine have just done that," she continued. "Last week I thought I was perfectly well supplied, and this morning I discovered that I have not a completely whole teddy or a runless stocking to my name. I actually think that overnight my supply decided that the time to elect itself to the rag-bag had come."

"I know exactly what you mean," I replied. "My possessions suddenly go ragged in just that way—but I'm well fixed now, having bought so many of our lingerie samples this year that I felt like a bride assembling a trousseau. If you do need underwear, we have some perfectly darling samples that I know Madame will let you have cheap."

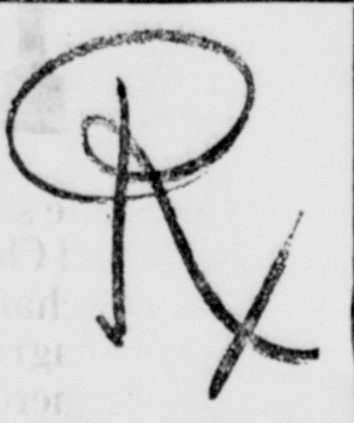

"There's one that I would have liked to take myself. It was a teddy with yoke and skirt of gorgeous dark ecru lace—the kind that looks just too expensive for words—and often its middle section was of peach silk crepe—with diamond-shaped center back and front. Fitted very skillfully and embroidered with the cunningest little eyelets."

It really is a joy to realize that underwear is becoming civilized and smartly fitted. How I shudder at the memory of those atrocious bulky canopies that we used to wear, and teddies, drawn in at the waist with the delicacy of a potato sack tied at the ends. It is a far cry from those abominable cumbersome ensembles to the subtle and delicate treatment of underwear today.

News Of The World Through The Camera's Eye

She "Hitch-Hikes" for Hoover Across U. S.

"HITCH-HIKING for Herb" is the way slangy folks describe the activities of Miss Frances Hancock, Hartford, Conn., who is walking to Los Angeles and making speeches en route for Hoover and the Republican ticket generally. This photo was taken when she passed through Columbus the other day. Miss Hancock made such a fight against Al Smith in New York state campaigns that she was engaged by the National Republican forces as special worker. Her travels in Ohio, she says, indicate a Hoover-Cooper landslide.

Graf Zeppelin's Official Welcomer

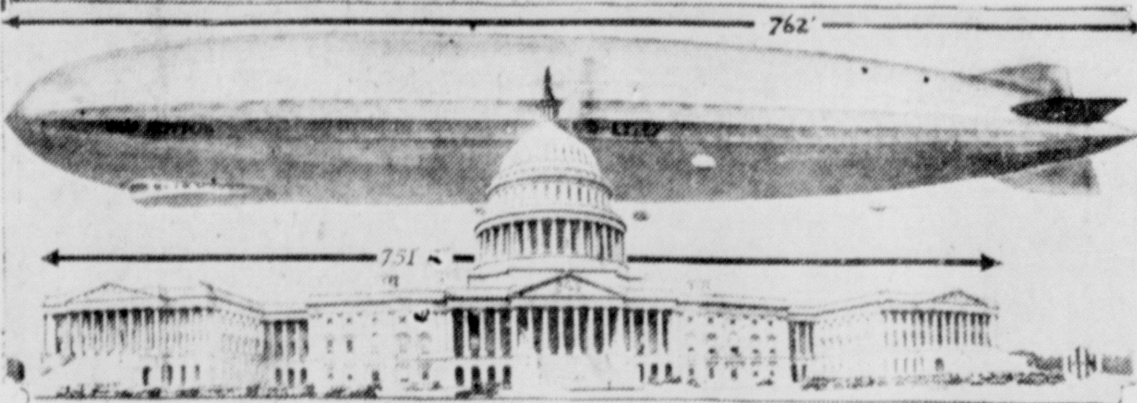

On behalf of United States, Theodore D. Robinson, assistant secretary of the navy, will welcome Dr. Hugo Eckener, designer, builder and commander of Graf Zeppelin, and members of his intrepid crew. Mr. Robinson flew from the Anacostia Naval Air Station to Lakehurst, N. J., to be on hand for the dirigible's arrival.

Harken to the "Little Red Gods"

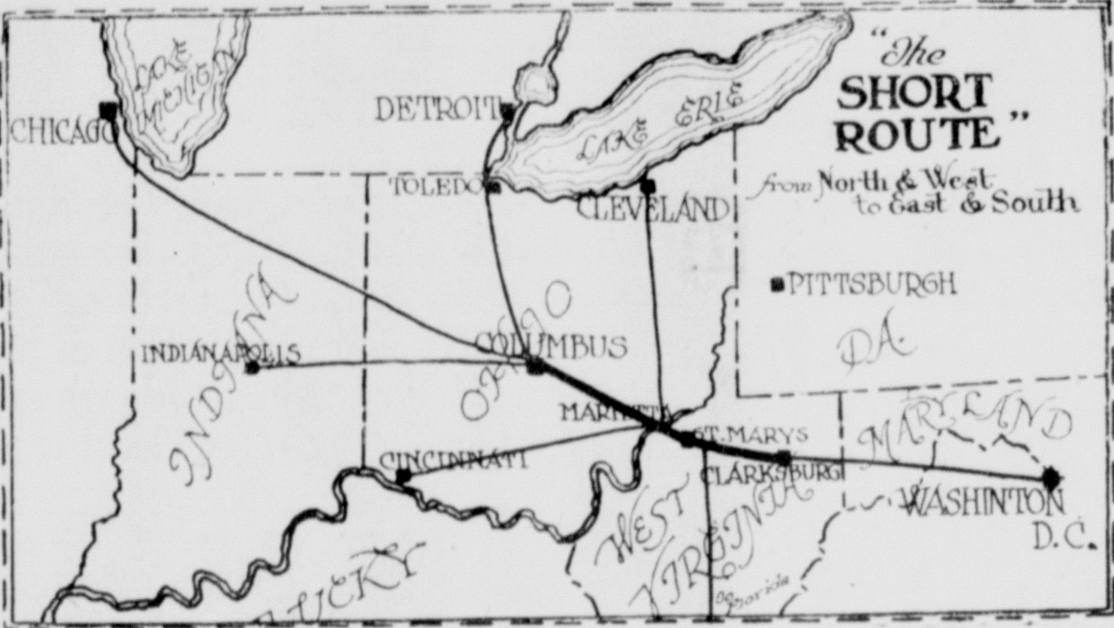

Two stout adventurers these—Bern Balchen, chief pilot of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, and Captain Martin Ronne, master of the ice ship C. A. Larsen. Balchen, who never wears a hat, and Capt. Ronne, who never appears without one, were photographed in earnest technical discussion as the Larsen put out of Los Angeles harbor for the South Pacific.

It's Bigger Than the Capitol

An idea of giant size of the Graf Zeppelin may be obtained from this composite photo showing the super dirigible hovering over the capitol in Washington. Uncle Sam would have to build on another wing to compete in size with the big air liner.

Doctor Arrested

Geneva, Oct. 22.—This doctor found a way to get around the non-advertising clause promulgated by the ethical practitioners in the locality. Every other day he placed an announcement in the newspapers that he was out of town, and every second day he advertised his return. Prosecuted for advertising, the doctor admitted that he had violated the spirit, if not the letter of the law, and promised to discontinue his copy.
